Two main subjects for IFA Lisbon 2025 are: “Residency of legal entities for corporate income taxation” and “Improper Use of Tax Treaties and Source Taxation: Policy, Practice, and Beyond”. This is a great opportunity to engage with thought leaders, share insights, and shape the future of global tax policy together. We look forward to meeting you in Lisbon.

We look forward to contributing to the enriching atmosphere of the Congress!

ABOUT IFA

The International Fiscal Association (IFA) was founded in 1938. IFA's objective is the study and advancement of international and comparative law in regard to public finance, specifically international and comparative fiscal law and the financial and economic aspects of taxation.

IFA is the only non-governmental and non-sectoral international organisation dealing with fiscal matters.

IFA is a unique neutral and independent platform where representatives of all professions and interests can meet and discuss international tax issues at the highest level.

The achievements of IFA are attributable to high-level representatives from both the private and the public sectors, including the Courts, Universities, the judiciary, government officials, academia and international governmental and non-governmental organisations, who are actively involved and contribute worldwide with their knowledge and efforts to the research, publications, congresses, seminars, organised by IFA, its Branches and Regions.

IFA has maintained high standards and quality in its debates and research over the years. In this way, IFA offers the necessary independent and neutral platform to experts belonging to different sectors of society, where opinions on topics of international taxation can be exchanged with respect for each other's background and responsibilities.

Each year one of the IFA's Branches hosts IFA's flagship event: The IFA Annual Congress is an excellent opportunity to exchange knowledge and experiences with respect to international tax law. The Congresses facilitate scope for useful contacts with leading experts in the tax field, both as part of the official programme and in the course of private discussions.

Two main subjects are selected by the Permanent Scientific Committee, which form the basis of The "Cahiers de Droit Fiscal International" (IFA Cahiers) and plenary seminars, often followed by companion seminars. IFA's Cahiers contain IFA Branch reports and the General reports on these subjects.

The IFA Annual Congresses attract 1,500-2,400 participants and their accompanying persons. The Scientific programme is supplemented by a choice of seminars, covering key and topical subjects, whether international in character or focused on the law of the jurisdiction where the IFA Annual Congress is being held. In the evening participants are invited to join a scale of social and networking events.
